Description

Location: Fully Remote (United States) | Compensation: $25-35/hour | Type: 100% Home-Based Positions | No Experience Required

Discover Fully Remote Jobs No Experience – Never Leave Your House

Tired of “remote” jobs that still require office visits, in-person training, or occasional on-site presence? At TotallyRemote Solutions, we’ve created fully remote jobs no experience where “fully” means exactly that—100% home-based from day one, including training, meetings, and every single aspect of employment. You’ll never step foot in an office because we don’t have one.

These aren’t the misleading fully remote jobs no experience that turn out to be “hybrid” or require quarterly office attendance. We’re talking about completely location-independent positions providing live customer service through website chat and social media messaging—work that happens entirely through your computer screen from wherever you call home.

What “fully remote” actually means here: Your interview happens via video call. Your training happens online from your couch. Your daily work happens from your home workspace. Team meetings happen via Zoom. Your manager is in a different state. Your coworkers are scattered across the country. There’s no office to visit because the entire operation exists digitally. These are genuinely fully remote jobs no experience.

Starting at $25-35 per hour with zero commute time, zero work wardrobe costs, zero vehicle wear and tear, and zero time wasted in traffic, these positions offer true work-from-home freedom. No experience required. No degree necessary. No leaving your house—ever, unless you choose to work from a coffee shop.

What Makes These Jobs Fully Remote vs. Partially Remote

Fully Remote Means EVERYTHING Happens Digitally:

Day One Starts at Home: No driving to an office for orientation. No in-person paperwork sessions. Your first day of training happens at your kitchen table, spare bedroom, or wherever you’ve set up your workspace.

Training: 100% Virtual: The entire 45-50 hour paid training program happens online. Live video sessions with trainers, self-paced modules you complete independently, practice exercises through your computer, shadowing experienced agents through screen-sharing—all from home.

Daily Work: Entirely Digital: You log into chat systems from your computer. Customer conversations happen through your screen. Team communication flows through Slack or Teams. Supervisor check-ins happen via video call or chat. Not a single work task requires physical presence anywhere.

Meetings: Always Virtual: Weekly team meetings on Zoom. Monthly all-hands via video conference. One-on-one coaching sessions through video calls. Every meeting respects that employees are geographically distributed.

No “Office Days”: Some “remote” companies require monthly office attendance, quarterly team gatherings, or annual conferences. Not these fully remote jobs no experience. While optional virtual social events exist, nothing is mandatory in-person.

Equipment: Yours or Provided: You use your own computer and internet, or we can ship equipment directly to your home. Either way, you never visit an office to pick up anything.

Location Flexibility: As long as you’re in the United States with reliable internet, your specific location doesn’t matter. Live in rural Montana, urban Chicago, suburban Florida, or anywhere in between—these fully remote jobs no experience work from wherever you are.

Compared to Hybrid or “Mostly Remote” Jobs:

- Hybrid: Requires 2-3 office days weekly (NOT what we offer)
- Mostly Remote: Occasional office visits for meetings or training (NOT what we offer)
- Remote with Travel: Requires quarterly travel to headquarters (NOT what we offer)
- Fully Remote: Zero required physical presence anywhere (EXACTLY what we offer)

These distinctions matter because “remote” has become meaningless through misuse. “Fully remote” at TotallyRemote Solutions means precisely what it says.
