Work-from-Anywhere Chat Assistant – Entry-Level, Flexible Schedule

Description

Position Summary

If you're looking to launch a remote career without a college degree or professional background, this entry-level Chat Assistant role is built just for you. We're hiring for a fully remote position that involves helping users via live chat on websites and mobile platforms. The job is simple, repeatable, and supported by training resources and response templates—making it ideal for those who are new to remote work or customer service roles.

You'll be part of a growing digital support team, assisting customers across a range of industries from e-commerce to SaaS platforms. This is a flexible job with no phone calls involved, offering a clean pathway into remote work while allowing you to earn up to $35 per hour.

Role Responsibilities

Assist Website Visitors via Live Chat

You'll provide customer assistance through chat widgets on company websites. This may involve guiding users to the right resource, helping them complete a purchase, answering questions, or clarifying services. All interactions are handled via written responses.

Follow Structured Conversation Scripts

To keep your responses clear and efficient, you'll rely on a library of templated answers and conversation flows. This helps you provide great customer service without needing prior knowledge of the products or services involved.

Escalate Technical or Billing Questions

For issues you can't resolve directly, such as payment disputes or account lockouts, you'll flag the chat for escalation. A senior specialist will take over, ensuring you're never left handling complex or stressful problems alone.

Keep Notes and Labels Updated

Each conversation requires basic tagging and note-taking. You'll label chats
